

Gurcharan Das

Author & former Chief Executive

India Unbound, Elephant Paradigm and The Difficulty in Being Good

Speaker, Commentator on India Economy & Society

Professional Expertise – authority on the India’s economic development

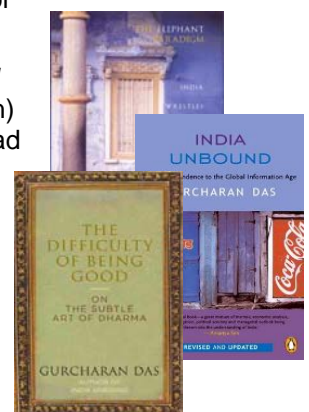

- Based in New Delhi, Mr. Das is an author, columnist and commentator and management consultant
- Formerly the Chief Executive Officer of Procter & Gamble India and Vice President for Asia, he completed his corporate career in the USA as head of strategic planning
- He regularly speaks at international business conferences held in India and overseas, addresses universities and other forums about India’s economy, management challenges and its optimistic future
- He also advises multinational corporations on globalisation and developing strategies for India

Gurcharan Das - Personal information and work experience

- After a 30-year career he retired to become a full time writer
- Managing Director, Strategic Planning, Procter & Gamble Worldwide (1992-5)
- Vice President, Procter & Gamble Far East between CEO of Procter & Gamble India and Vice President of Procter & Gamble Far East (1985 and 1992)
- Chairman and Managing Director of Richardson Hindustan Limited (1981-5)
- Gurcharan Das graduated with an honors degree from Harvard University in Philosophy and Politics and later attended Harvard Business School

Published books and papers

- Mr. Das writes a Sunday column for The Times of India and occasionally writes for The Wall Street Journal, Financial Times, Foreign Affairs, Time and Newsweek
- Best known for his internationally-acclaimed book India Unbound; The Social and Economic Revolution From Independence to the Global Information Age (Penguin) which follows the changes of the past fifty years in India; an essential insider’s road map to India
- Has authored a book of essays entitled The Elephant Paradigm: India Wrestles with Change (Penguin) looking at an ancient civilization’s reawakening to the spirit – and potential – of its youth
- His latest book is The Difficulty of Being Good; The Subtle Art of Dharma (Penguin) to answer that quintessential question, why be good?, which can be applied to many of the dilemmas that bedevil our world today, from political strategies to business decisions and beyond.
- Gurcharan Das has also authored novels and plays, notably A Fine Family

“I do not know of any book that describes the impact of India’s economic policies on her growth during the post-independent India as analytically, logically and vividly as this one”. Narayana Murthy, Chief Mentor and former CEO, Infosys