

Lisa Oake Journalist and CNBC TV Presenter

Moderator and Chairperson

Professional Experience

- Lisa is a seasoned broadcasting professional who hosts a range of financial markets programmes including Squawk Box, Worldwide Exchange and other CNBC programmes.
- Based in Singapore, Lisa works exclusively for CNBC as a freelance broadcaster, using her extensive experience to host the full range of CNBC shows on a part-time, opportunity basis.
- In Singapore Lisa was the first journalist to report live from the trading floor of the Singapore Exchange.
- She is an excellent moderator drawing upon her experience as an international reporter, broadcaster and TV anchor since 1991.
- She has interviewed a number of Presidents, Prime ministers, business CEOs, central bankers, investors and market analysts.
- Lisa has a very strong understanding of financial and investment topics but also has the skills, experience and personality to handle discussions across many economic, political, business and management topics.

Sample assignments

- Lisa has been involved in a number of CNBC events including moderating the Asia Business Leaders' Awards and other media events.
- She can conduct live-on-stage, in-conversation style interviews with speakers, moderate panels and compare events.

Lisa Oake - personal information

- After a short spell back in Canada where she anchored with Business News Network (BNN) in Toronto, she returned to Singapore in 2007.
- She has featured on CNBC's "Wake-Up Call", "Squawk Box", "Asia Nightly News", "Asia Market Week", and "Worldwide Exchange".
- Her first jobs were in Canada with OZFM and NTV before moving to Singapore in 1998 where she joined CNBC.
- Born and raised in Canada and has a degree in Political Science from the Memorial University of Newfoundland (1995) and a Master of Arts degree in Journalism from the University of Western Ontario (1996).

